Re: Diocese of Camden, New Jersey (Case No. 20-21257)

Dear Messrs. Trenk and Prol:

Enclosed, please find an email the Court received from an individual asserting to be a tort claimant. Generally, the email seeks information about the case and inquires how he can express his opinions about the case. I informed the claimant that I would hold the email until today to allow the individual an opportunity to file a motion. No such motion has been filed. I trust you will contact this individual to provide an update and relay any other pertinent information sought.

A copy of this letter will be filed on the docket. Due to the email including personal identifying information, it will not be included on the docket.

Very truly yours,
